WHO WE SERVE

Humboldt Bay Fire serves the City of Eureka and the Greater Eureka area. Located in Northern California, Eureka is the largest city in the County of Humboldt with approximately 50,000 residents including the unincorporated area. Eureka is one of California's best kept secrets, bordered by the beautiful Humboldt Bay and forests lush with giant redwoods. A variety of cultural opportunities are available in and around the city. Outdoor recreation is abundant with activities such as boating, fishing, kayaking, hunting and backpacking. Humboldt Bay Fire takes pride in making Eureka and the greater Eureka area an even better place to live.

OUR DEPARTMENT

Responding to approximately 7,400 calls for service each year (from 5 Fire Stations), HBF is a full-service, all-risk fire department. In terms of critical infrastructure, HBF is the emergency service provider for a number of high-hazard occupancies, including various types of building construction ranging from old Victorian residences to modern commercial occupancies; 1 municipal airport; 1 hospital; 1 fuel distribution bulk storage plant; as well as a large area in the "Wildland Urban Interface" in the outlying areas of the jurisdiction.

HBF's staff and firefighters are highly motivated and trained to deliver the best possible community service locally, throughout Humboldt County, and throughout the state of California. From fire and rescue services, to our delivery of Emergency Medical Services, to general public service we stand ready to help 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

THE IDEAL CANDIDATE

Humboldt Bay Fire seeks individuals whose values align with our departments mission of being committed to community service through leadership, vision and integrity.

Our firefighter's take pride in their work as their position protects life, property, and the environment by performing firefighting activities, emergency medical aids, hazardous response, rescues, fire prevention, and other emergency and non-emergency situations. The position is also responsible for maintaining fire equipment, apparatus and facilities.

The ideal candidate for Humboldt Bay Fire is a professional with a desire for a fire service career, emphasizing in teamwork and cooperation. They should bring life experience fostering honesty and a strong work ethic, and exhibit positive engagement in diverse professional settings. Crucial attributes include technical proficiency, a genuine interest in teaching, and an attitude promoting a positive fire service image. Demonstrated readiness for emergency service, effective communication skills, a comprehensive fire service education, commitment to high physical fitness levels, and proven customer service experience are essential. Moreover, the ideal candidate should actively seek opportunities to enhance and improve Humboldt Bay Fire.

The culture instilled by our personnel is recognized as a significant factor in creating the Humboldt Bay Fire's reputation as an excellent workplace. We place a strong emphasis on physical fitness, training, health, and overall wellness. Additionally, there is a palpable enthusiasm for the education and mastery of the skills associated with firefighting and emergency medicine.
